Cumberland County Government Offices Move To Appointment Only

Residents should contact the office they are conducting business with to make an appointment.

Carlisle, PA – In an effort to help slow the spread of COVID-19, the Cumberland County Board of Commissioners, today announced changes to the county government facilities services.

“To further mitigate the spread of COVID-19, effective Monday, November 30, 2020, Cumberland County government offices will provide services to the public by appointment only,” said Cumberland County Commissioner Gary Eichelberger. “With numbers of COVID-19 cases escalating in the county and the commonwealth, we are taking these measures seriously to help keep our residents and employees safe.”

This move follows the Governor’s COVID-19 mitigation efforts to keep businesses customer and employees safe. This includes wearing masks, cleaning and social distancing requirements for all our facilities, and mandatory telework requirements unless impossible for county employees.

All public meetings will be virtual via Zoom or phone until further notice.

President Judge Guido has issued an administrative order that all Cumberland County Court of Common Pleas and all District Courts remain open to the public for official business with special conditions and limitations in place, due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

These conditions include; reducing personal court appearances by using virtual technology, limiting meetings, conference and social gatherings and staggering court appearances to reduce crowding. Also, all individuals including employees entering any judicial facility shall observe social distancing at all times, and wear appropriate face coverings in accordance with the Pennsylvania Department of Health Order of November 18, 2020, as adopted by the court and the county commissioners. The courts continue to assess additional ways to mitigate the spread of the virus.

Claremont Nursing Rehabilitation Center and the county prison remain closed to visitation; all Department of Health and CDC guidelines remain in place.
